

Another day in the life of Hank Williams:

Dear diary, the malware and forensics lecture is just ele-fantastic!

18.1.2018 - I had the strangest telephone call this morning, some individual claiming to be from tech support, wanting me to tell him my password. No of course I did not do this. But then he asked me to give my "IP number", no problem with this, this is not a password right?

20.2.1028 Hank HAnk new Entry - I found this USB stick, looks nice, I will insert it and copy everytrhing on it
